

TEJAS

Foreword

Within this yearbook we have endeavored to record for your enjoyment pleasant memories of the school year of 1957-58.

We deeply appreciate the help and co-operation of our advertisers, the faculty, and the student body in making possible this annual.

We take pride in presenting to you

the "Tejas" of 1958

The Annual Staff

Dedication

We pay tribute to two wonderful people, Mrs. Mary Ramsey and Mr. Neilan Cook, our sponsors.

Mrs. Ramsey has been our confidante and friend throughout the year and has helped us to attain the rank of graduates.

For three years Mr. Cook has been our loyal and understanding guide. He has been untiring in his efforts to lead us onward.

To these two, we dedicate the "Tejas."

The Senior Class

Superintendent's Message

Dear Students:

May I express my thanks to each of you for your cooperation in the school program this year. While our improvements are being made, we have had many inconveniences. These include lack of locker space, inadequate laboratory, no shop for our agriculture boys, crowded corridors, etc. Gradually these are being eliminated.

Students of Sanger School have been able to understand these problems and have been able to adjust to them. I wish to thank you for your splendid understanding and cooperation.

Best wishes to the Annual Staff as you work under some adverse circumstances. The Asian "Flu" epidemic has affected your work, too.

Problems like these seem great and they are, but the solution to them tempers us and we grow because we are able to face up to them squarely and courageously. Thanks to each member of our student body.

Sincerely yours,

R. C. Wilson, Supt.

Principals' Messages

Congratulations and best wishes to the Seniors of 1958. May your achievement in life be such that happiness and contentment will fill your many years.

Sincerely your friend,

Cathlene Gentle, Grade School Prin.

With all the marvelous events of our modern world you can be sure that behind the scene of all these feats of success there is a tremendous amount of physical and mental toil expended.

Keeping the greatness of these events in mind, you should feel proud that the youth of today have a challenge to meet never before experienced by any generation.

So, to you the students of Sanger High School, I feel assured that you will direct your every thought toward the idea of meeting this challenge with vigor and no thought of retreat.

Let every one contribute to the job ahead by giving of every intellectual ability we possess.

Sincerely,

Floyd Banks, High School Prin.

History

In September of 1946, a group of small children entered upon the greatest adventure of their lives. School was new and different and they were quite amazed. Thirteen members of the present Senior class were in that group. They were the following: Yvonne Anderson, George Belcher, Nancy Campbell, Harvey Cantelou, Mary Cole, Wilma Cudd, Billy Davis, Donald Masten, Leonard Maughan, Paul Sadau, Nell Rita Moore, Jimmy Sebastian, and Joe Wiggins. Their first teacher was Miss Alyne Seals.

All members of the class over the past twelve years are too numerous to mention; therefore, this history will include only those in the present Senior class.

In the second grade, three more of the present Seniors joined the class. Marquieta Prater was waiting there for them, Barbara Weeks skipped the first grade to be with them and Sallye Hood came from Bolivar to be included in this second grade class with Mrs. Virgie George as the teacher.

In Mrs. Marguerite Riggs' third grade they entered the new school building for the first time. In the fourth grade the group was enlarged by the addition of Bobby Stover from the Gaston school and Donald Harvey from Krum. Mrs. Winnie Minick was the teacher this year.

In Miss Cathlene Gentle's fifth grade Billy Van Rater from Midway school was added to the class. Miss Cathlene's gray hair almost turned pink with worry, as she always predicted that it would.

Mrs. Neppie Burroughs taught the sixth grade. The class was increased by Judy Cole from Plano. They had their first history course that year. The seventh grade roll did not increase. Mrs. Grace Brown was the teacher. The class studied Texas history and began playing basketball for the first time.

The eighth grade class had two new members. They were Patsy Miller from Plainview and Monroe Joiner from Denton. That was the year for the San Marcos trip and their visit to the aquatic show. The big event was their graduation into high school. Three teachers were required for them that year, they were Miss Ina Grace Holt, B. L. Browning, and Mr. Ivan Bearden.

The first year in high school brought the usual thing, initiation. Marvin Reiter from Era moved to Sanger just after that event. After the excitement died down they realized that they were at last full-fledged high school students. Miss Ina Grace Holt and Mr. Neilan Cook were their Freshman sponsors.

As Sophomores they were quite proud to be upperclassmen. Class parties were in full swing by this time. Mrs. Mary Nichols and Mr. Mercer Henderson were their sponsors.

In their Junior year Dorothy Jones from Ringling, Oklahoma, joined the class and Sallye Hood from Denton also rejoined, after moving to Krum when they were in the third grade. The outstanding moment of that year was the Junior-Senior banquet with the theme of "Teahouse of the August Moon." They also ordered their class rings, another great feat. Mrs. Olive Chambers and Mr. Neilan Cook were their sponsors that year.

As Seniors the class was once more increased by Betty Aaron from Prosper and Delbert Everett from Nocona. There are twenty-six members in their class, now. Of course, their greatest thrill of the year will be graduation along with receiving class rings, publishing the annual, producing a play, and taking a trip. Weddings and engagements are at an all time high for them. Their sponsors are Mrs. Mary Ramsey and Mr. Neilan Cook.

The Senior Class of 1958 hopes that your school days will be as pleasant as theirs have been. They are both happy and sad to leave you, dear old Sanger High.

Senior Class Prophecy

I had been quite busy preparing my part of the annual for the deadline on the following day. I arranged the Seniors in alphabetical order then sat down at my typewriter to complete the history and will of the Senior Class of 1958. After having typed for some time, I grew weary and my eyes felt heavy. I rested my head on my arms and relaxed for a few minutes. Some hours later, I roused with a start. Could I have been dreaming? I looked around the room; it was the same; my typewriter still had the unfinished paper in it. It must have been a dream, but everything seemed so real, yet fantastic. I had seen each member of the class; however, they looked older, more mature, and self-sufficient. I questioned them and they revealed this strange tale:

Betty Aaron had gone to work for Bell Telephone soon after graduation and had worked herself up to a neat little job as long-distance operator in the Fort Worth exchange. Yvonne Anderson so excelled in her work at Metropolitan Business College in Dallas that they asked her to stay on there as a teacher. George Belcher, looking quite the role, told me that he was president of the First National Bank of Sanger. I suddenly heard a ship's distress signal and I found that a ship in the Pacific was sending an SOS call over the shortwave radio that was nearby. The Chief Petty Officer had discovered a leak in the ship and was calling for assistance. The voice sounded familiar; it was Harvey Cantelou. Wilma Cudd, private secretary to the head of a large oil firm in Dallas, was doing quite well. She was married and had two children. Billy Davis, athletic director of Sanger High School, had a football team that was going to regional. Delbert Everett was living in Washington, D. C. where he worked for the government as an accountant. Donald Harvey had purchased and was operating the King Ranch in South Texas. Sallye Hood was showing a film on safety to her third grade class. Dorothy Jones, supervisor of nurses at Flow Hospital, was making eyes at the newest intern, who was none other than Donald Masten. Monroe Joiner was entertaining in a Hollywood nightclub with the rest of the Sparks. Two of the '58 Seniors were in competition with one another, Leonard Maughan owned and operated the G. I. Service Station while Bobby Stover operated the Gulf Station, in the old home town. Leonard still was driving a Mercury, but Bobby had a pink Cadillac. Marvin Reiter had taken Bill Carter's place and was rounding up all the delinquents in Sanger. Billy Van Rater had become a top official at Moore's Business Forms in Denton and was favoring the Sangerites who worked there. Patsy Miller was running her house and working as a secretary, while Frank was trying to graduate from North Texas. Nell Rita Moore was an IBM operator in a large Dallas firm. Marqueta Prater and Mary Cole Shelton were quite busy keeping house for Al and Oscar and attending P. T. A. meetings. Paul Sadau had taken over his father's farm and was very prosperous. Jimmy Sebastian was still on his cotton ranch and installing sprinkler systems on the side. The Denton Record Chronicle headlines proclaimed a banquet honoring their top women journalists. I found Judy Cole Thomas' name near the top of the list. Joe Wiggins, who got his start carrying groceries, now owned and operated what had formerly been Gentle's Grocery Store. In my imaginary wanderings, I entered an exclusive dress shop where the model looked familiar; why, it was Barbara Weeks! Each garment that she showed me was so beautiful that I agreed to take them all, wondering if I should be so extravagant on a teacher's salary. When I saw the sales slip, I awoke from my vision with a jolt. Oh, what a dream!

Last Will And Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1958, being of sound mind and body, do hereby wish to dispose of the following possessions accordingly:

Betty Aaron leaves her understanding personality to Billie Ann Harvey. Yvonne Anderson leaves her calm, even temper to Sue Bentley. George Belcher wills his height to Fred Yeatts, another basketball star! Nancy Campbell leaves her bookkeeping ability to Mary Jane Akers to help her become a C. P. A. Harvey Cantelou leaves his iron nerve to Larry Harberson, in the hope of furthering Larry's artistic career. Wilma Cudd leaves her ability to secure an engagement ring for Christmas to Lela Mae Springer. Billy Davis wills his paper route to James Shelton, in hopes that James will become self-sufficient, too. Delbert Everett wills his manly physique to David Galbreath. Donald Harvey leaves his dark curly hair to John Hugh Schertz. Sallye Hood leaves her quiet and shy ways to Betty Landers. Dorothy Jones wills her innocent look to Janel Odom. Monroe Joiner wills his self-esteem to Tommy Chapman. Leonard Maughan leaves his ability to drive a Mercury to Billy Jack Looper. Donald Masten leaves his clock-watching ability to Harvey Hamlett so that Harvey will always be ready to leave class on time. Patsy Miller leaves her ability to keep a steady to Gwen Mays. Nell Rita Moore leaves her boisterous ways to Elleece Sullivan; live it up Elleece! Marvin Reiter leaves his interest in electronics to Larry Horst. Billy Van Rater leaves his ability to get along with Howard Hard to Kenny Payne. Marqueta Prater leaves her place at the candy machine to Shirlene Amyx, in hopes that she gains some weight. Paul Sadau leaves his conservative ways to Gerald Ramsey to help him in his musical career. Jimmy Sebastian leaves his left tackle position to Douglas Payne. Bobby Stover leaves his egotistical ways to Ralph Amyx. Mary Cole Shelton leaves her ability to go to school and keep house to Margaret George Jordan; keep up the good work, Margaret. Judy Cole Thomas leaves her ability to get married before Christmas to Carol Ann Holder. Barbara Weeks leaves her femininity to Anna Mae Vaughan. Joe Wiggins leaves his Romeo-like techniques to Bill Odom; careful, Bill!

To the Juniors, we leave our place as Seniors, our self-satisfaction, our importance, and our wisdom.

To the Sophomores, we leave our schemes for raising money for the Junior-Senior banquet.

To the Freshmen, we leave our enjoyment of good times.

To the teachers, we leave our love and devotion and a sense of relief that we have, at last, graduated.

To the dear old school building, we leave the peaceful quiet caused by our absence and any of our possessions which we may have left behind.

We appoint our sponsors, Mrs. Mary Ramsey and Mr. Neilan Cook, as executors of this, our last will and testament.
